“Recent upgrades to the facility, access and transport linkage improvements and strong management has ensured the Corowa Saleyards is one of the most highly regarded and utilised livestock facilities in the state,” Mayor Bourke said.

Corowa Saleyards upgrades to occur

At its January ordinary meeting, Federation Council awarded a tender to Corowa based firm, Focus Engineering for $431,926 to complete upgrade works to the Corowa Saleyards.

The Corowa Saleyards is owned and managed by Council and has been operating for more than sixty years. The facility is well respected and utilized by industry professionals across several states throughout Australia.

Council programs major maintenance to the saleyards, once every five years and tender works awarded were identified for the 2019/2020 financial year and will ensure improved compliance with Work, Health and Safety requirements, animal welfare and increase holding capacity.

“Currently, the Corowa Saleyards is recognised as one of the four largest saleyard facilities in New South Wales and in order to future proof the operation, appropriate innovative planning in and around sustainability and growth must be pertinent to any future strategic decisions. Council looks forward with anticipation to witnessing this upgrade and further strategic upgrades planned for the site come to fruition.”

Bindii Eye weed treatment

Council staff and contractors are currently treating weeds commonly known as Bindii Eye in Corowa, Howlong and Mulwala.

This is the second round of treatment in the last 3 weeks using a Broadleaf herbicide.
